Many workplace accidents, some of them fatal, are linked to working at height. In certain situations, the use of a MEWP (mobile elevating work platform) is the best way to work safely and efficiently.

Using a MEWP requires appropriate training (art. R4323-55 of the French Labour Code).

Fictis Prévention offers theoretical training adapted to employees who need to obtain a driving licence, a CACES® or renew their CACES®.

Audience

This e-learning module is designed for:

- anyone who needs to obtain the CACES® in accordance with recommendation R.486 ;
- Anyone who needs to obtain a driving licence;
- anyone who needs to renew their CACES® in accordance with recommendation R.486.

Objectives of the training

The aim of this training module is to:

- present the safety rules for operating MEWPs;
- prepare for obtaining or renewing the CACES ®;
- prepare you to obtain a driving licence.

Programme

- In “initial training” mode: the trainee follows all the chapters and is assessed at the end of the course. At the end of the final assessment of the trainee’s knowledge, a course completion certificate is issued.
- In “refresher” mode: placement tests are used to automatically provide a course tailored to the trainee’s knowledge. The duration of the refresher course varies according to profile.
